Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 2618

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 1, 2, 4, 5, 7, 10, 15, 16-18, 21, and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gorday et al (US006665521B1), hereinafter Gorday.

Per claim 1, Gorday discloses a method of communicating between at least two electronic entities (see figure 1 and item 20), said method involving communication management means (item 10) that employ a command response protocol (primary communication protocol, column 1 and line 15-20) to communicate with said electronic entities, and said method being characterized in that at least one of said electronic entities communicates with said communication management means using a wireless technology (ReFLEX) and in that it includes a step consisting in storing a list of said electronic entities in the communication management means (see column 2 and lines 4-20), it is inherent that the base station keep a list of wireless device within the service network under cellular network.

Per claim 2, Gorday further teaches that said electronic entities constitute a network of acquaintances (see column 2 and lines 40-45, partners).

Per claim 4, Gorday further teaches that each of said at least two electronic entities is associated with a unique identifier (address of each cooperative partner, see figure 3 and item 308).

Per claim 5, Gorday further teaches that each identifier is associated with a service or family code (cooperative diversity network, column 2 and lines 40-50).

Art Unit: 2618

Per claim 7, Gorday further teaches that said list includes a new electronic entity, it includes a step of adding the new electronic entity to said network of acquaintances and a function of at least one predetermined criterion (see column 2 and lines 60-column 3 and line 28).

Per claim 10, Gorday further teaches that it involves at least three electronic entities and in that said communication management means are combined with one of said electronic entities (see figure 1, items 12 and 29).

Per claim 15, Gorday further teaches that at least one of said at least two electronic entities is portable (see figure 1 and item 21 and 29).

Per claim 16, Gorday further teaches that at least one of said at least two electronic entities communicates with the communication management means using a contactless technology (see column 1 and lines 15-20, ReFLEX).

Per claims 17 and 18, Gorday further teaches GSM in which inherently use SIM card as microcircuit card for secure purpose (see column 1 and lines 18).

Per claim 21, Gorday further teaches that it ensures continuity of communication involving one of said electronic entities and antenna from a plurality of antennas connected to the communication management means when said electronic entity moves in such a manner that said communication involves another antenna from said plurality of antennas (see column 3 and lines 51-column 4 and lines 29, diversity in which utilize any partner's antenna to receive same information to improve the source's gain).

Per claim 24, Gorday further teaches that the object communicates with said plurality of stations using a contact less technology (see column 2 and lines 20-25, Bluetooth).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gorday in view of Ghirnkar et al (US006216001B1).

Gorday does not expressly teaches storing a message intended for at least one of said at least two electronic entities when the address electronic entity is temporarily out of range of the communication management means. Ghirnkar teaches storing a message intended for at least one of said at least two electronic entities when the address electronic entity is temporarily out of range of the communication management means (see column 4 and lines 16-37). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the teaching of Ghirnkar with Gorday's system to preserve the quality of service.
